

Financial Services Guide

FSG Version 13.1

This Financial Services Guide should be read in conjunction with your adviser's Adviser Profile.

Introduction

The purpose of this Financial Services Guide (FSG) is to provide you with important information before a financial service is provided to you, so you can make an informed decision about using our services. Please take the time to read it and keep it safely with your other documents.

This FSG is issued on 31st July 2023, by:

Sentry Advice Pty Ltd

(AFSL 227748 ABN 77 103 642 888)

“The Licensee” which is a wholly owned subsidiary of WT Financial Group Limited (ACN 169 037 058)

This FSG explains the products and services provided by The Licensee, your Adviser’s relationship with The Licensee, other important information about remuneration received for services, and how we handle any complaints.

The Licensee and your adviser

When you engage with a financial adviser in Australia, to provide financial advice they need to either hold their own Australian Financial Services License (AFSL) or be authorised to provide advice through a licensee.

The Licensee provides a range of services and support to its advisers such as technical, software, educational and administrative resources to assist them in providing you advice.

Your adviser

Your adviser will provide you with an Adviser Profile when they provide you with this FSG. Their Adviser Profile is an important document that sets out the services they can provide you and exactly what types of financial advice and other services we have authorised them to provide.

It will also contain details of their Authorised Representative number to enable you to find out details about them from the MoneySmart Financial Adviser Register.

Our financial services

The Licensee is licensed under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) to provide financial product advice and to deal in a range of financial products within the following classes of financial products:

- Basic and non-basic deposit products
- Debentures, stocks and or bonds issued or proposed to be issued by a government.
- Life products including investment life insurance products as well as any products issued by a Registered Life Insurance Company
- Interests in managed investment schemes including investor directed portfolio services.
- Retirement savings accounts (“RSA”) products (within the meaning of the Retirement Savings Account Act 1997)
- Superannuation, including Self-Managed Superannuation Funds
- Securities
- Standard margin lending facilities
- Managed Discretionary Accounts

Refer to the Adviser Profile for the specific authorisations we have granted your adviser.

Absence of Independence

We are unable to call ourselves independent. The law prevents most advisers from using such words as independent, unbiased, or impartial.

If, for example, an adviser gets paid a commission to help a client arrange insurance or work within a functional restriction such as an Approved Product List, they are prohibited from calling themselves independent. Most advisers who receive insurance commissions charge their clients little (if anything) for the advice and service. Advisers within The Licensee receive these commissions.

So, although we always put your interests before ours when giving advice we cannot (by law) call ourselves independent, unbiased, or impartial.

How does your adviser provide you advice?

If your adviser provides you with personal advice that takes into account your objectives, financial situation or needs, you will receive a Statement of Advice (SoA).

The SoA will contain the advice, the basis on which it is given and more specific information about remuneration and any associations that may have influenced the provision of the advice by your adviser and other relevant persons. If you receive further financial advice from your adviser, they will produce either another Statement of Advice or Record of Advice (RoA).

You can request a copy of these by contacting your financial adviser any time up to seven years from the date the advice was provided.

If your adviser recommends specific investment, insurance, or other financial products to you, they must provide you with a relevant product disclosure statement (PDS) and/or product brochures that includes information to enable you to make an informed decision about a financial product, such as its key benefits, risks and costs associated with the product. Whenever you are provided with such documents you should read them carefully and, in their entirety, and consult your adviser if you have any questions.

You are not obliged to act on your adviser's advice, but if you do decide to follow their recommendations, they will help you complete the relevant documents to implement your financial strategy.

What do we and your adviser expect from you?

For your adviser to be able to provide you with advice that is appropriate to your circumstances you need to:

- Provide them with accurate information about your financial needs, circumstances and goals
- Read all supporting documents such as PDSs provided to ensure that you make informed financial decisions
- Inform your adviser of any changes that may influence the type and nature of advice they would provide and that is relevant to your current circumstances and future objectives
- Keep them informed of your current contact details at all times

You may choose to not provide your adviser with some information. In such circumstances, you will need to consider the appropriateness of advice provided to you before you act upon the advice. You should carefully read any warnings contained in your advice document.

Before providing advice, your adviser requires that you agree on the subject matter of the advice to be provided. For example, you may seek advice on just superannuation, or just insurance, rather than a comprehensive strategic financial plan. This will generally be agreed to and documented in the 'Fact Find' document or a service agreement.

When you decide to act on advice provided to you, your formal consent to proceed with the advice is required. Generally, your adviser will require that you sign an Authority to Proceed (ATP). In signing an ATP, you will be confirming that you understand both the advice you have received, and the benefits, risks and costs associated with the products or services recommended to you.

As a financial services provider, we and your adviser have an obligation under the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act to verify your identity and the source of any funds. This means that your adviser will ask you to present identification documents such as a passport or driver's license. They and we will also retain copies of this information. This information will be held securely.

We and your adviser cannot provide you with services if you are unwilling to provide this information.

How can you give instructions to your adviser about your financial products?

You may specify how you would like to give us instructions. For example, you may nominate to instruct us to act by telephone, fax, email or other.

How are we and your adviser paid for the services provided?

Your adviser may provide an introductory or initial meeting free of charge.

After the first meeting, your adviser will discuss the fees and charges that will be applicable to your individual circumstances.

Due to the varying nature of individual client situations, the fee your adviser charges for plan preparation, implementation, and ongoing access to support and review services will vary. Your adviser will structure and disclose this on an individual basis.

There are different styles of fees that your adviser may charge you and they will discuss the most appropriate method with you, prior to you proceeding with obtaining and implementing their advice.

Fee for Service

This fee is an agreed rate on an estimation of your adviser's timed costs and effort.

Hourly Rate

Your adviser may charge an hourly rate for services, and this will be discussed with you prior to proceeding.

Ongoing Fee Arrangements

If your adviser has an ongoing fee arrangement with you which exceeds 12 months, then you will receive a Fee Disclosure Statement (FDS) from them annually.

Your FDS will set out the fees you have paid, the services that they were contracted to provide and what they did provide (and or what you accessed) over that period in addition to fees and services for the following 12 months.

Your adviser will also send you a renewal notice requesting your consent to continue to provide services to you. You must provide your consent within the appropriate timeframe in order for your adviser to continue to provide services to you.

⚠ Important

Your adviser can provide you with advice on how to manage your finances, but you are responsible for making your own financial decisions.

It is important that you keep your login details confidential to protect your personal information and financial assets. You should not share your login details with your adviser.

Combination of Fees and Commissions

Full disclosure of all remuneration will be contained in the Statement of Advice that your adviser will prepare for you. However, you will not be charged unless you have agreed to engage their services. You can pay in the following ways:

- Deductions from your investment as a one-off and/or ongoing payment or in instalments
- Direct invoice for initial and ongoing advice
- Commission we (and therefore your adviser) may receive from a financial product provider when you commence an insurance contract
- A combination of the above

Superannuation and investment products

Your adviser may receive adviser service fees, or ongoing fees for the advice and services provided to you. Investment and superannuation product providers generally, deduct their costs from the investments. Some products or platforms have additional fees.

Life insurance products

Your adviser may receive up-front commission of up to 60% (exclusive of GST) of your first annual insurance premium for arranging your cover. In addition, your adviser may receive, after the first year, an ongoing annual commission of up to 20% (exclusive of GST) of your annual insurance premium. Note that where commissions are the same for initial upfront and ongoing annual commission (i.e. level commissions) the above commission caps do not apply.

These commission payments are made by the relevant product issuers and are not an additional cost to you. However, your adviser may charge a fee for the initial advice and ongoing adviser services. Insurers can deduct premiums directly from you or from your superannuation account balance.

If you do not continue with a purchased life insurance product for a full 24 months, the commission received by The Licensee and the adviser is returned to the insurance company, in full or part, and you may then be invoiced for this amount.

Services NOT provided

Your adviser, in their capacity as an Authorised Representative of Sentry Advice Pty Ltd (AFSL 227748), is not authorised for the following services:

- Self-Managed Super Fund administration and/or audit, including the preparation of annual financial statements
- Accounting and tax agent services
- Arranging or transacting on mortgages or other loans
- Paying bills on your behalf and or control of your bank accounts

While your adviser may provide services through a related entity, in cases where they do, it is not under any authority issued by Sentry Advice Pty Ltd. The client acknowledges that Sentry Advice Pty Ltd accepts no liability for any such services that may be provided.

What other payments and benefits may The Licensee, and your adviser receive?

Sometimes in the process of providing advice and other financial services, The Licensee or your adviser may receive benefits from product providers such as sponsorship of events, subsidised educational conferences, rebates, bonuses, preferred product rates or other fees.

Non-monetary benefits

These benefits are discretionary in nature and relate to future events. It is therefore not possible to provide an estimated dollar value on these benefits at this point in time. Advisers may receive benefits from associated Licensee companies or product providers such as:

- Educational conferences and seminars
- IT software or support
- Non-monetary benefits such as business lunches, tickets to sporting and cultural events, or other minor benefits. However, these benefits cannot be accepted on a frequent or regular basis or over the value of $300.

Each adviser must keep a register of benefits received. If you would like to see a copy of our registers, you can contact us or your adviser directly.

How will I know what is payable?

All fees and charges will be discussed and agreed between you and your adviser prior to providing and implementing their services. Any remuneration paid to The Licensee, or your adviser for advice, or by a product provider that relates to a financial product recommendation, will be disclosed in the advice document provided to you. Unless otherwise noted, all fees are inclusive of GST.

How are fees paid to The Licensee and your adviser?

The Licensee initially receives all fees from clients and product providers and distributes them to financial advisers and their practices after our fees and other expenses are deducted. The Licensee generally retains a percentage of fees paid under its arrangements with advisers.

Referral fees

We or your adviser may pay a referral fee to a third party for referrals. Further information about referral fees, including our reasonable estimate of the amount of any fees payable and how it is calculated is available from your adviser or us on request and may be included in a Statement of Advice that your adviser will supply to you.

How do we protect your privacy?

The Licensee is committed to protecting your privacy. The purpose of our Privacy Policy is to ensure that you understand the ways in which we collect, maintain, use, and disclose your personal information and how we comply with the Australian Privacy Principles.

We and your adviser maintain a record of your personal profile that includes details of your investment objectives, financial situation and needs.

We and your adviser also maintain records of any recommendations made to you. If you wish to examine your file, you should ask your adviser (or us) so arrangements can be made for you to do so.

We are committed to implementing and promoting a privacy policy which will ensure the privacy and security of your personal information. Our Privacy Policy is available on request.

What if I have a complaint?

We are committed to ensuring that your adviser provides you with quality advice. This commitment extends to providing accessible complaint resolution mechanisms should you be dissatisfied with the service you receive.

If you have any complaint about the service provided to you, you should take the following steps:

- Contact your adviser and tell your adviser about your complaint. Most issues occur through miscommunication, and it is your adviser's responsibility to ensure you understand what is happening, including the strategies, products, and services they provide you. We encourage you to contact your adviser first.
- We will acknowledge your complaint within 24 hours.
- If your complaint is not satisfactorily resolved within 5 days please contact The Licensee by phone, mail or email and we will work to resolve the matter within 30 calendar days from initial complaint.
- You can also lodge your complaint directly with The Licensee by emailing complaints@wtfglimited.com
- If you are dissatisfied with the outcome, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the Australian Financial Complaints Authority, an approved external dispute resolution scheme, of which The Licensee is a member.

The advice and products I can offer you

I am authorised to provide financial product advice for, and deal in, the following classes of financial products:

- Basic and non-basic deposit products
- Debentures, stocks and or bonds issued or proposed to be issued by a government
- Life products including investment life insurance products as well as any products issued by a Registered Life Insurance Company
- Interests in managed investment schemes including investor directed portfolio services
- Retirement savings accounts ("RSA") products (within the meaning of the Retirement Savings Account Act 1997)
- Superannuation
- Self-Managed Super Funds
- Securities
- Tax (Financial) Adviser

How are my company and I paid?

The Licensee initially receives all fees and commissions from clients and product providers and distributes them after their fees and other expenses are deducted. The Licensee generally retains a portion of fees paid under its authorisation arrangements.

For details of other possible benefits, please refer to the FSG and/or your Advice Documents. All fees and commissions outlined below are inclusive of GST.

Initial Consultation

Dependent on the nature of the initial meeting, this may incur a cost which will be fixed, and agreed to prior to the meeting.

Our main aim is to gather information about you and to determine your primary goals and objectives in seeking advice.

At the end of this meeting, we will outline the next steps and detail any fees applicable.

Advice preparation

You may be charged a Statement of Advice preparation fee which will depend on the complexity of your individual circumstances and type of advice you require. Any fee for service must be paid within seven (7) days of the date of the tax invoice issued to you. The fee may range from $600 - $25,000.

Implementation

We will outline the details of any fees, including Implementation Fees, for you to authorise before any work is carried out.

If you elect to proceed with our advice the fee will range from $0 to $25,000.

Insurance products

My company or I may receive up-front commission of up to 60% (exclusive of GST) of your first annual insurance premium for arranging your cover. In addition, my company or I may receive, after the first year, an ongoing annual commission of up to 20% (exclusive of GST) of your annual insurance premium. Note that where commissions are the same for initial upfront and ongoing annual commission (i.e. level commissions) the above commission caps do not apply.

These commission payments are made by the relevant product issuers and are not an additional cost to you.

Ongoing fee for advice

If you elect to pay a fee for access to services involved in the ongoing review of your financial planning strategy, the ongoing fee is based on the complexity of ongoing advice and the services provided.

The ongoing advice fee will be based on the level of services made available to you and the complexity of the advice. Complex advice requirements include the use of trusts and ownership structures, overseas assets, or incomes, executive options, or multiple investment entities. The frequency that review services are made available to you will also impact on the fee charged.

The ongoing advice fee can range from $100 - $15,000 per annum.

Ad hoc advice

Where you do not wish to participate in an ongoing advice fee arrangement but require ongoing advice on an ad hoc basis, an hourly fee of between $0 and $330 per hour may apply.

Other benefits, interests, or associations

I or my company may have referral arrangements with selected referral partners. If a referral arrangement applies to you, we will provide you with further details.

How to find me

If you would like to make an interview time to discuss your financial needs and objectives in more detail, please contact me on 0419 744 455 or via email at wayne@cwm.com.au.

Privacy Policy

We recognise that your privacy is important. We are committed to providing you with the highest levels of client service.

Our Commitment

We recognise that your privacy is important.

We are committed to providing you with the highest levels of client service. The Privacy Amendment (Enhancing Privacy Protection) Act 2012 (Act) sets out a number of Australian Privacy Principles (APPs). Our aim is to both support and ensure that we comply with these principles.

Use and Disclosure

We are subject to certain legislative and regulatory requirements which necessitate us obtaining and holding detailed information which personally identifies you and/or contains information or an opinion about you. In addition, our ability to provide you with comprehensive financial advice and services is dependent on us obtaining certain personal information about you, which may include:

- Your name, contact details, date of birth, tax file number
- Information regarding your dependents and family commitments
- Your occupation, and employment history
- Your financial needs and objectives
- Your assets, liabilities, income, expenses insurances, and social security entitlements
- Credit card and banking details

We will destroy or de-identify your personal information when it is no longer required.

Access and Correction

You have the right to access and request corrections to your personal information, subject to certain legal exceptions. We may not disclose confidential formulae or evaluative decision-making details but can provide results or explanations. We may charge a fee for searching and providing access to your information. If access is denied, we will explain the reason. We strive to maintain accurate and up-to-date personal information, but its accuracy largely depends on the information you provide. Please inform us of any errors in your data.

Privacy Complaints

To report a breach or potential breach of our privacy policy or the National Privacy Principles, contact us using the methods provided and direct your complaint to the Privacy Officer. We will address your complaint within 30 days and aim to resolve it to your satisfaction. If unsatisfied with our response, you can contact the Office of the Privacy Commissioner for further investigation.

Collection

Our main purposes for collecting personal information are to facilitate financial services advice and to update our records. At or before the time we collect personal information from you we will take reasonable steps to inform you why we are collecting that personal information, who else we might disclose that personal information to and what may happen if you do not provide personal information to us.

Data Security

We take measures to safeguard your information from unauthorised access, misuse, loss, or modification. Your data will be retained only as long as needed, except when required by law. We may share your personal information with third parties or external contractors, who must adhere to our privacy policy. Disclosure to third parties may occur if required or permitted by law, and you have the right to refuse such authorization. If we or your adviser plan to sell the business, your information may be disclosed to potential buyers for due diligence, under confidentiality agreements. If the sale occurs, your data may be transferred to the purchaser, and you will be informed of the transfer.

Use of Cookies

Our website utilises cookies to enhance your online experience by personalising content and saving time. Cookies are text files placed on your hard disk by a web server and are unique to each user, but they cannot run programs or transmit viruses. They help websites remember your information and preferences for easy access during subsequent visits. While most browsers automatically accept cookies, you can modify your settings to decline them; however, this may limit your ability to fully interact with the website's features.

Identifiers

In some circumstances we are required to collect unique identifiers, for example, your Medicare or tax file number. We will not use or disclose this information other than when required to do so by law or, or when consented to by you.

Anonymity

You may deal with us anonymously where it is lawful, practicable and reasonable to do so.

Sensitive Information

Without your consent, we will not collect sensitive information about you. Exceptions to this include where the information is required by law, or for the establishment, exercise, or defence of a legal claim.

Further information on privacy in Australia may be obtained by visiting the website of the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner at www.oaic.gov.au

As a financial services organisation we are subject to certain legislative and regulatory requirements which necessitate us to obtain personal information about you, including s961B of the Corporations Act.

We collect information about you for the purpose of reporting to AUSTRAC under the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006.
